SUSTAINABLE COMMUNITY SOLUTIONS

Barrel shown at left includes the optional decorative recycled brass American-made animal figurine faucet. Options include the dragonfly (left and far left), bullfrog (below), cardinal and turtle.

These long-lasting, heirloom-quality rain barrels are made from once-used 53-gallon white oak Kentucky bourbon barrels.

They come straight from the aging warehouse to Minnesota, where they are fitted with a screened water inlet, bottom brass drain faucet, a mid-level brass faucet for filling a watering can, and a top over-flow fitting which can be used to connect barrels in series or to attach an overflow hose.
